PRIMARY FOCUS & EXPERIENCE

Diana specialises in international arbitration and other alternative dispute resolution.

She regularly serves as counsel in international arbitration proceedings held under the auspices of the International Chamber of Commerce, the International Center for Settlement of Investment Disputes, the London Court of International Arbitration, local regional centers such as the Centre de Mediation et d'Arbitrage de Paris and UNCITRAL arbitration rules. She has particular expertise in international disputes involving state entities, as well as Spanish and Latin American parties. Diana is adept at solving issues of sovereign immunity, international treaties and their impact on the outcome of matters and the enforcement of awards.

She has advised clients in international sales and distribution contracts, in M&A, construction, defence, gaming, manufacturing, infrastructure, Oil & Gas, art and telecommunication related disputes.

Diana also acts as counsel in cross-border disputes involving French and foreign court cases.

She regularly advises clients on the drafting of dispute resolution clauses and conflict management systems. She also assists them in complex negotiations and acted as mediator in more than 20 international commercial mediations.

Diana further acts as arbitrator in international commercial cases, which gives her a valuable insight into the keys to successful arbitration.

Diana is admitted to the Paris, Madrid and New York Bars. She is also a CMAP, CEDR, and IFCM accredited mediator.

Diana joined Ngo Jung & Partners in 2012 from Dechert (Arbitration) in Paris after practicing law for nine years in New York at Milbank (Litigation & Arbitration) and at Shearman & Sterling where she began her career in 2001.
