

Elie Kleiman

Partner, Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer LLP

Elie Kleiman joined the dispute resolution group as a partner in August 2000 and became the Managing Partner of Freshfields Paris office in 2011. He specialises in international arbitration. He regularly acts as Counsel in arbitral and court proceedings and also sits as arbitrator and mediator. He has significant trial experience and advises and represents clients in complex international disputes involving, in particular, corporate law, securities, M&A, joint ventures, banking, distribution, risk management and damage control. His wide sector knowledge notably covers energy, chemicals, pharmaceuticals and biotechnology, aeronautics, construction, financial institutions, telecoms and media. He is the author of numerous articles and is a frequent lecturer on international arbitration and complex litigation issues.

Elie Kleiman received law degrees from the University of Paris II and Paris X. He is admitted as an Avocat in France and as a Foreign Legal Consultant of the New York Bar. His other roles include participating as an Expert member of the Club des Juristes, the leading French legal think tank. He is Chairman of the board of Paris, the Home of International Arbitration, a not-for-profit organisation for the promotion of Paris as a seat for international arbitration as well as a member of the Alliance des Avocats pour les Droits de l'Homme, a not-for-profit clearing house of pro bono legal advice.